Keep your Pets Immunized ... Your pet is a vital family member which keeps companionship in times in need and it keeps your children happy in the worst of times. It is always important to remember immunizations you need to give to your pet. Important pet immunizations can vary from the type of pet. Dogs and Cats have different types of important pet immunizations that it could be a little confusing.

Some important pet immunizations are:

1. Worms Prevention Immunization- Every animal whether cat or dog can get worms. By getting this important pet immunization there is protection from worms which could kill your beloved animals. Worms deprive your animal of nutrients because the worms eat the food before the animal can absorb it. Worms can also infect family members.

2. Rabies Immunization- We all know what happened to Old Yeller and Cujo from this dangerous virus. Rabies is an infectious virus transmitted through a bite. Whether this is from a wild animal or someone's pet, this is why it is important to get your animals immunized to prevent the spread of the rabies virus. No one wants this to happen to their animal.

3. Parvovirus Immunization for Dogs- This important immunization is very essential to your dog. This is a viral infection which affects the white blood cells. In young puppies this could lead to instant death because it affects the heart muscle. The only good thing about this virus is that it is not transmittable to humans. Through immunization, the dog can be protected from this virus.

4. Feline Leukemia Immunization- This is retrovirus that infects the cells and is similar to the human HIV. The blood cells, depending on the environment they live in, can be more infected. The immunization is not 100% preventative because of the care you need to make to keep your cat in clean and non-infectious areas. Indoor cats have a very low risk to the virus.

Whatever the breed of your dog or cat, it is very important to immunize your animal. Important pet immunizations vary from specie to specie and are always good to search for others on the internet. Talk to your vet and see what the best treatments for prevention are, he or she will tell you the important pet immunizations which could help your pet. It is very hard to remember the different vaccinations and immunizations your pets have to go through.

Noise Bylaw

From the hours of 11:00 p.m. to 7:00 a.m. no noise is allowed that is loud/ unusual or unnecessary and is persistent. There are people who work shift work, etc. and you should take consideration for this between 7:00 a.m. and 11:00 p.m. playing of music, pets, revving engines, etc. Talking with your neighbor could save a lot of grieve in the long run.

In addition, the operator can be fined under the Noise Bylaw – first offence $500.00.

Remember – ATV'S need Liability Insurance

Animal Control – Cat Traps

Reminder Cat traps are available through the Town Office. We have had complaints regarding other cat traps in the area. If you do own a trap you must report when the trap is being used and the Town will deal with any animal trapped. The Town must hold the animal for 72 hours so if they are some one's pet they have time to claim their pet. There are fines if you are caught using a trap without the Towns approval.
